FOREWORD

Recently it was brought to the attention of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants by Burnham S. Colburn, Historian of the North Carolina Society, that there was in existence a manuscript of Middleboro Deaths arranged alphabetically by the late Alfred Wood, Jr. of Middleboro. This book was compiled about the middle of the last century and many thousands of hours had obviously gone into the gathering of the many records. Besides the obvious facts of dates of death, Mr. Wood had added to the record numerous genealogical notes which greatly increases its value and interest. As there was only one known copy of this manuscript and the paper was fast disintegrating and the ink fading, the Society felt that it should be preserved and be made generally available. For that reason the Society untook to publish these records.

The original manuscript of this book is now in the possession of Mrs. Chester B Wood and is used with her permission.

PREFACE TO THE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT

This BOOK OF DEATHS was stitched together for the present use one or two years before the commencement of entries therein-- but sufficient courage having been gathered together to commence. what experience had before taught would be a tedious labor, and the frequent want of an alphabetical arrangement, instead of the various and irregular lists which I had before made, being felt, I began and brought it to a general completion (so far as my lists offered matter) after months of somewhat terrified labor, in 1850.

This book contains almost entirely deaths in Middleboro, and descendants and emigrants from Middleboro, arranged alphabetically bur surnames, from various other smaller books and scraps on which I had collected them from Town, Parish, grave and private records, during the past ten or eleven years - i e. since 1845.

Some private records - Jacob Tomson's and Maj. Bennett's for instance - record deaths of their acquaintances etc. in other places and I have indicated these.

ALFRED WOOD, JR.
